

Report on Saraswati Puja Celebration at Lumding College

Saraswati Puja, a festival dedicated to the goddess of knowledge and wisdom, was celebrated with great fervor at Lumding College on the 26th of January, 2023. The Lumding College Students' Union (LCSU) took the initiative to organize the event, creating an atmosphere of joy and spirituality on the college campus. The celebration not only attracted students and staff but also visitors from outside the college premises.

The day commenced with the traditional rituals of Saraswati Puja. The beautifully decorated idol of Goddess Saraswati was installed in a specially adorned pandal on the college campus. The entire campus was adorned with flowers and colorful decorations, creating a festive ambiance. Students and faculty members actively participated in the morning puja, seeking the blessings of the goddess for knowledge, wisdom, and academic success.

Following the puja, a delicious bhog was prepared by the college canteen and distributed among the attendees. The prasad distribution was a highlight, with students and staff eagerly queuing up to receive the blessed offerings. The distribution was not limited to the college community, as many visitors from outside the college also joined in the celebrations throughout the day.

As the day transitioned into night, Lumding College witnessed a vibrant cultural night organized by the LCSU. The cultural night showcased a diverse range of performances, including dance, drama, and musical acts, featuring the talents of both students and invited artists. The college ground was transformed into a stage for artistic expression, bringing together students, faculty, and visitors in a celebration of cultural diversity and creativity.

The Saraswati Puja celebration at Lumding College, organized by the Lumding College Students' Union, was a grand success. It not only strengthened the bond within the college community but also attracted visitors from outside, contributing to the cultural exchange and communal harmony. The day-long festivities and the cultural night extravaganza added a touch of vibrancy to the academic environment, creating lasting memories for all participants. The event reflected the commitment of the LCSU to fostering a holistic and enriching college experience for students at Lumding College.
